

THREE KILLED WHEN TORNADO HITS MISSOURI

Score Of Persons Are Injured And Fifty
Made Homeless

Springfield, Mo., March 23.—(P)—A woman, a girl and a man were killed more than a score injured and 50 made homeless by a southwestern Missouri tornado late today.

Striking first at Nankua, 22 miles northeast of Springfield, the terrific wind wrought destruction in or near more than a half dozen communities before blowing itself out over the lake of the Ozarks.

Mrs. Jess Elmore, 70, a widow, was killed while seeking shelter in a storm cellar at Nankua.

Bert Smith, 21, was hurled to his death while at work on the roof of a house which collapsed in the path of the storm.

Mrs. Reba Keeling, 18, died of injuries suffered in the hamlet of Rader, which virtually was wiped out. Six of its eight houses were flattened.

Near there, 30 country school children were saved by a quick witted teacher, Miss Pauline Rader, 21. Upon seeing the dark cloud she led the children from the building and ordered them to lie flat on the ground. They watched the storm carry the schoolhouse away.

Specifically the Red Cross headquarters at St. Louis dispatched John Wilson, trained disaster worker, to the storm area.

Many were saved by taking to storm cellars. Others fled to open hillside. Seven persons were in the general mercantile store when the building felt the storm, related Mrs. Herman Pierce in describing its approach at Rader.

"No one was hurt but the structure was badly wrecked."

Eight injured were in a hospital at Lebanon, Mo., brought there from Morgan and Oakland. A tentative checkup of the injured list showed at least 28.

The parents of Miss Keeling were among the more seriously hurt.

Henry Elmore, injured in the collapse of his home near Oakland, was not expected to live. He was carried for several yards.

Other towns in or near which property was wrecked included Camden, Linn Creek, Osage Beach and Dryden.

Dr. Oldberg, a faculty member of the College of Medicine since 1932, has been acting head of the department of surgery since the death of Dr. Carl A. Hedblom last year.

Johnson City, Ill., March 23.—(P)—Preliminary to a $100,000 state appropriation to pump water from "Old Ben" coal mine, the department of mines and minerals started a preliminary survey here today.

Jesse Jackson, local coal union president, estimated water could be pumped from abandoned mines in 15 days. Johnson City's principal industry—Old Ben—has been suspended since early December when water seepage stopped production.

Flood Death Toll Placed At 172; Property Damage Will Exceed $500,000,000

By The Associated Press

The flood crest of the Ohio river moved westward toward the Mississippi Monday night, carrying destruction and suffering into new areas, as a dozen flood-torn eastern states struggled with an immense rehabilitation task.

Hundreds of persons were deserting their homes as the Ohio inundated large areas of lowlands in the southwestern portion of the Buckeye state. Dozens of villages were submerged and isolated.

A re-check of the death list, as eastern rivers rapidly receded, showed 172 dead. Property damage was estimated, unofficially and officially, at more than $500,000,000. More than 425,000 persons were homeless.

The revised death list by states: Pennsylvania 112; West Virginia 18; Ohio 4; Maryland 4; Massachusetts 10; New York 2; Vermont 5; Connecticut 3; New Hampshire 1; Maine 5; Virginia 4; North Carolina 2; Georgia 2.

As thousands of national guardsmen and WPA workers started clearing away flood wreckage, state officials converged on Washington seeking rehabilitation funds.

Governor Earle of Pennsylvania, Governor Brann of Maine, Governor Cross of Connecticut and Frank Poy, Massachusetts director for the national emergency council, conferred with their congressional delegations regarding proposed flood relief legislation.

Governor Earle made an appeal to Harry Hopkins, works progress administrator, for federal funds. He said a special session of the Pennsylvania legislature is "practically inevitable."

After a conference with the Pennsylvania governor, Hopkins announced he and six other WPA officials would leave at once on a tour of the stricken area.

Senator Guffey (D. Pa.), prepared to introduce two bills to provide appropriations totaling $68,578,000 for permanent flood control programs in the Allegheny and Susquehanna river basins.

At Hartford, Conn., insurance capital of the nation, 1,000 national guardsmen continued on duty to prevent looting. The damage there was estimated by business men at $25,000,000.

A committee of experts set the personal and property damage at Johnstown, Pa., at $28,821,692, nearly three times that of the famous flood of 1889. The estimate did not include damage to bridges, streets, sewers and other public property.

Nearly 100,000 men were reported engaged in rehabilitation work.

Illinois Old Age Pension Act To Be Explained

James Andrews And John Weigall Will Appear Before Security Board

Washington, March 23.—(P)—The Illinois old age pension act will be explained to the social security board tomorrow by two state officials.

James Andrews of Kewanee, superintendent of the state old age pension bureau, and John Weigall, Springfield, fiscal director of the department of public welfare, conferred with the board's legal division today and were asked to appear before the board tomorrow.

The board, which recently rejected the Kansas social security act because of its local control features, has evinced conservative interest in the county control phases of the Illinois act.

The Illinois act was passed by the legislature over the veto of Governor Henry Horner who contended it failed to conform with federal requirements.

Approval of the act by the congressional board would enable the state to evade the amount of 4 per cent. pensioners. The state has asked for $9,000,000 in federal funds, the amount the legislature appropriated.

Governor Horner, in vetoing, he told said the county control feature jeopardized the federal contribution, as the social security board has demanded administrative control be used in a single state agency. The Illinois department of public welfare would maintain a degree of control but much of the authority is vested in county boards appointed by the state's 102 county judges.

Whether the state has retained sufficient control over the administration of the act is the problem the social security board seeks to determine.

Following the conference with the board's legal division today, Andrews said he had obtained no indication whether its recommendations would be favorable.

These included chapters with headquarters at: Oregon, Vandalla, Greenville, Mt. Sterling, Gibson City, Jerseyville, Yorkville, Dixon, Mattoon, Havana, Waterloo, Ottawa, Harrisburg, Shelbyville, Virginia, Belvidere, Petersburg, Arcola, Toulon, Virden, Robinson, Paris, Peoria, Sandwich, Sullivan, Edwardsville, Sycamore, Shawneetown, Streator, Kewanee, Winchester, Bushnell, Monticello, Tuscola, Plano, Woodstock, Clinton, Effingham, Rushville, Albin.

Yaquis Will Vote On Liquor Issue

Guadalupe, Ariz., March 23.—(P)—The little village of Yaqui, Indians, like the most prosaic of white communities, is wracked by the question of whether it shall be wet or dry.

Theodore Ramos, chief of the village's 500 inhabitants since 1900, is nearing 70 years and is to retire.

Loretto Luna, a candidate for leadership, wants the Indians to "quit drinking and live by the rules of the church."

Jesus Flores, brother-in-law of Ramos, wants the job and is basing his campaign on the belief "everyone should have a good time."

ILLINOIS FARM THEFTS TOTAL $1,420,000

Thieves Steal 20,000
Head Of Cattle And
1,500,000 Fowl

By John L. Bach,
Associated Press Staff Writer

Chicago, March 23.—(P)—R. C. Saunders, inspector of rural crime prevention of the state department of agriculture, disclosed today that the value of equipment and products stolen from the 231,000 farms in Illinois in 1935 exceeded the $1,420,000 stolen from banks throughout the country during the same year.

He said Illinois farmers lost more than 15,000 chickens and 20,000 head of cattle and other livestock last year, in addition to tools and implements.

"With between 3,000 and 10,000 farmers belonging to vigilante committees in 80 counties of the state, the rural crime wave is going to be stopped," Saunders said. "These town guards are pledged to put thieves in prison or a morgue."

The third annual Conference on Crime, which will be held in the state house at Springfield Friday, will be devoted almost entirely to rural thievery.

Agents of the U. S. department of justice, States Attorney Thomas J. Courtney and U. S. District Attorney Michael Igoe, both of Chicago, are scheduled to address the 1,000 invited delegates.

Saunders said the vigilante units, which work in close co-operation with the sheriffs and highway police, were now being organized in St. Clair, Jefferson, La Salle and Macon counties.

"There is a systematic compilation of rural crime information," Saunders said, "and this prevents thieves from playing their trade in one county after another. Within a short time after a theft is reported farmers over the entire state are on the alert for trace of the robbers."

Organization of road patrols, a system of quick telephone communications between vigilantes and state legislation to control the sale of poultry and live stock are some of the aims of the farmers' organization in its fight against the thieves.

Saunders said laws should be enacted to permit only the sale of poultry and live stock marked with the code brand of the farmer.

"That code brand would be registered with the state and such a system would stop the flow of stolen property into the hands of innocent buyers and packers," he said.

5,000 PERSONS WILL NOT SHARE IN ESTATE

Philadelphia, March 23.—(P)—The State Supreme Court today ruled that those of the more than 5,000 claimants to the Walter Garrett snuff fortune who claim to be heirs of the manufacturer cannot share in the $17,000,000 estate.

In an opinion written by Justice William L. Schafer, the court held that Garrett's widow, Henrietta E. Garrett, who outlived him by several years, took an "absolute estate" in the fortune under the will, with the power to use the principal during her life and to dispose of it by power of appointment in her will.

She died November 16, 1930, leaving in will in which she disposed of only $62,500 of the $17,000,000 to friends and relatives.

Margaret Fletcher Ruled To Be Mother Of "Sonny Boy"

Superior Judge Rudolph
Desert Will Rule On Custody
Of Child Next Week

Chicago, March 23.—(P)—Superior Judge Rudolph Desert ruled tonight that Mrs. Margaret Mann Fletcher, 24, was the mother of "Sonny Boy," three, whose parentage has been the subject of an extended court fight between Mrs. Fletcher and Dr. Gordon E. Mordoff, suburban Wilmette physician.

The court said that the question of custody of the child, involving the fitness of the various claimants, will be taken up probably next week.

"The only convincing testimony in this case is the documentary, such as the hospital records and pictures," Judge Desert stated.

"We have a picture of Margaret Mann Fletcher with the child. Why should a strange woman continue to associate with the child? I am going to enter a finding that Margaret Mann is the mother of 'Sonny Boy.'"

The decision, coming at the end of a night session, was greeted with cheers and a number of women rushed to congratulate the young mother.

"Sonny Boy" first became a contested child about a month ago, when Mrs. Fletcher signed a warrant charging Dr. Mordoff with technical kidnapping. That phase of the case has not yet been settled.

The case was taken into the Superior Court to settle the question of maternity and custody.

Dr. Mordoff claimed the lad was born to his late wife, Mrs. Madge Mordoff, in Minneapolis, although he could produce no birth record substantiating his statement.

Mrs. Fletcher contended the boy was born to her out of wedlock in 1932, and was "loaned" to Mrs. Mordoff because she couldn't care for him at the time. Witnesses testified during the case that Mrs. Mordoff represented to her husband that the boy was their own.

HALTS MOTOR CARS

Clovis, N. M., March 23.—(P)—Static, generated by today's dust storm, halted motor cars, disrupted electric power service and handicapped communication in eastern New Mexico.

Many motorists, usually baffled only by obscured vision, had trouble keeping their cars from stalling in operation as the static blocked ignition systems.

Automatic switches in power plants repeatedly were thrown open by static picked up along high tension lines.

POSTMASTER NOMINATIONS

Washington, March 23.—(P)—The following postmaster nominations in Illinois were sent to the Senate today by the president: George P. Hawthorne, Galesburg; Ralph P. Ravens, Kankakee.

AWAIT WORD FROM HITLER AND IL DUCE

New Peace Proposals
Are Dispatched To Dictators

By James C. Oldfield

London, March 23.—(P)—With apprehension the League of Nations council awaited word tonight from two dictators—Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini.

Der Fuehrer's all-important answer to proposals of the four Locarno powers was still unsighted late tonight. It was linked closely by league circles with an expected message from the Italian dictator stating his basic demands for halting the war in Africa.

The league's committee of 13, which is the council without Italy, dispatched a new plea for peace directly to Italy and Ethiopia after resuming consideration of the war today. The African bloodshed had been temporarily forgotten in the streets of the crisis caused by Hitler's scrapping of the Locarno treaty.

Joachim Von Ribbentrop, Hitler's special ambassador, said dispatches from Berlin may fly to London tomorrow evening. Germany's scheme for solution of the first part of the double dilemma confronting the league—the Rhineland crisis and the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

One, it was admitted, cannot easily or effectively be settled without some agreement concerning the other.

Mussolini, it is believed, will insist upon assurances that he will get an "Italian peace" in Ethiopia with a simultaneous lifting of sanctions before he gives broad pledges in connection with a projected quadruple alliance which would function against Germany should Hitler refuse to negotiate for a new Locarno accord.

The correlation of the two questions was made evident when the committee of 13 scrupulously refrained at today's session from discussing political aspects of the Italo-Ethiopian struggle or the problem of sanctions.

The committee apparently agreed to wait for light on the Rhineland crisis before broaching the danger-steeped path of sanctions.

A definite hardening of the British attitude against the lifting of sanctions as a bargain for Mussolini's Locarno cooperation was voiced in authoritative quarters.

Tommy Touhy Convicted In Federal Court

Powerful Gang Leader
Found Guilty Of Complicity
In Mail Robbery

Minneapolis, March 23.—(P)—Tommy Touhy, last of the once powerful Touhy gang of Chicago, was convicted by a federal jury tonight of complicity in the $78,000,000 mail robbery here Jan. 3, 1933.

The jury found Touhy guilty on each of the 10 counts, nine of them charging thefts of specific letters, and the other charging conspiracy.

Tears welled into the eyes of Touhy's two daughters, Eleanor, 21, and blond, and 12½ Edward Ryan, 22-year-old brunette, both here in Chicago.

The jury of 10 men and two women deliberated from 5:35 until 8:35 p. m. with about an hour off for dinner.

Sentence was deferred until tomorrow morning by Federal Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye.

Touhy once known as "Terrible Tommy" to Chicago's underworld, during the hey-day of the Touhy gang in the prohibition era, slumped forward in his wheelchair when the verdict was read. Suffering from an incurable disease, the gangster has been brought to court each day in the chair.

With Touhy's conviction, each one of the eight men who engineered the bloodless looting of the mails at the Milwaukee railroad depot here three years ago have been apprehended.

Two of them, Leon Epmeir and William Barry, star government witnesses in the Touhy trial, will be sentenced later, both have pleaded guilty to similar charges.

Others in the band "Gloomy Gus" Schaefer, Albert (Polly Nose) Kator, Frank McGee, and "Silent Jim" Ryan are serving terms in penitentiaries now. Schaefer and Kator are serving long term sentences in Joliet prison in Illinois for the John Farrow kidnapping. The other two are in Alcatraz serving 20 years terms.

Willie Sharkey, the eighth man in the crime, hanged himself in a St. Paul jail after being acquitted of the William Hamm kidnapping in the fall of 1933.

Reach Agreement Of Corporation And Windfall Tax

House Ways And Means Sub
Committee Will Report
At Early Date

By Douglas B. Cornell,
Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, March 23.—(P)—Definite agreements on all major phases of a proposed new corporation tax and a "windfall" levy on income resulting from non-payment or refunding of AAA processing taxes were announced early tonight by a House ways and means subcommittee.

Chairman Samuel B. Hill (D-Wash.) smilingly told reporters: "We are pretty well to the point where we can formulate a report."

He added that he expected the report, on which the full ways and means committee will start hearings next Monday, would be ready "late in the week."

Still in question was a controversy-studded proposal for new processing taxes. Most subcommittee men are opposed to them. Some said there was a possibility the processing tax suggestion would not be acted upon this session.

The subcommittee agreed to recommend to the full committee:

1. A 90 per cent "windfall" tax on income resulting from non-payment or refunds of AAA processing taxes, with a yield of $100,000,000 and upward.

2. Continuation of the capital stock tax through June 30 with the rate cut from 31.40 to 70 cents per $1,000 of capital stock and repeal of this tax July 1.

3. Continuation of the excess profits tax during the present taxable year, which varies for individual corporations, and repeal at the end of the year.

4. That dividends declared by a corporation in excess of net income in any one year be allowed to be credited in the next two successive years to distribution of income.

5. That normal and surtaxes on income apply to dividends declared out of funds accumulated by corporations prior to March 1, 1913.

6. That sections of the present revenue law providing surtaxes on personal holding companies and on corporations formed to permit stockholders to evade surtaxes on their incomes be repealed as unnecessary.

Gov. Hoffman Has Developed New Evidence

Chief Executive May Seek Clemency For Condemned Man

By Samuel G. Blackman,
Associated Press Staff Writer

Trenton, N. J., March 23.—(P)—Governor Harold G. Hoffman, authoritative sources disclosed tonight, has developed new evidence in the Lindbergh kidnap-murder case, which he considered sufficiently material to seek clemency for Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

The governor conferred last week with Attorney General David T. Wilentz, Hauptmann's prosecutor, and the sources said the governor suggested that they together request a commutation of the death penalty to life imprisonment before the New Jersey pardons court. The governor is presiding officer of the court.

The attorney general, to whom the governor did not reveal the nature of the reported new evidence, was non-committal tonight. He professed not to know what the governor's next moves would be in his efforts to "clear up" the famous murder case.

With Hauptmann facing electrocution for the crime a week from tomorrow night, his counsel, O. Lloyd Fisher, obtained application blanks today for a second hearing before the pardons court, which in January refused to grant clemency.

There were indications in authoritative quarters, that the information in the governor's possession concerned "framed" evidence at Hauptmann's trial, involving alleged pressure brought upon witnesses to identify Hauptmann as having a part, at least, in the crime.

At the state house, legal authorities pointed out that an attack upon identification testimony would not be sufficient to upset Hauptmann's conviction as long as any other evidence linking him in a material way with the crime remained unassailed.

The opinion of the State Court of Errors and Appeals, upholding Hauptmann's conviction, was cited.

"From three different and in the main unrelated sources," the court's opinion said, "the proofs point unerringly to guilt: (A) possession and use of the ransom money; (B) the handwriting of the ransom notes; and (C) the wood used in the construction of the ladder."

Fisher said the second appeal to the court of pardons means almost certainly that Hauptmann will die next week.

H. L. Hopkins Will Survey Flood Areas

Members Of Congress Want Committee Appointed To Study Floods

By Melbourne Christerson,
Washington, March 23.—(P)—Members of Congress from fifteen states voted today to seek the appointment of a joint Senate and House committee to study flood conditions throughout the nation and recommend a comprehensive control program at this session.

They acted a short time before Harry L. Hopkins and six other House Progress Administration officials hurriedly packed their bags to leave tonight to direct federal relief and rehabilitation activities in flood-swept eastern states.

Hopkins, leaving himself for hard-fought Hartford, Conn., said the "first hand inspections" would be made in an effort to determine the actual damage and "the most expeditious manner in which the resources of the WPA can be brought to bear on the task of rehabilitation."

President Roosevelt set aside $33,000,000 last Saturday for flood relief. Of this $33,000,000 will be used to restore bridges, highways, public buildings and utilities. The remainder will be devoted to fighting disease.

The congressional survey, which would go into present emergency measures in the east as well as in a long-time flood control program, was approved by the flood conference over the opposition of Chairman Wilson (D-La.) of the House flood control committee.

Acting as chairman of the conference, Wilson declined to introduce a resolution calling for the appointment of the joint committee until he had conferred with Speaker Byrnes and Vice-President Garner. He said the proposed survey would conflict to some extent with studies now being made by the National Resources Board.

Denies Knowledge Of Bank Robbery

Indianapolis, March 23.—(P)—Capt. Matt Leach of the state police said today Mrs. Ollie Lee Haddad, arrested last week in Michigan City, Ind., following the attempted robbery of the bank of Bloomington (Ind.), had denied any knowledge of the affair in which two were killed.

Leach, in revealing Mrs. Haddad's identity for the first time since her arrest, said she was known also as Patsy O'Neill, and had lived here, in Logansport and Lafayette, and in St. Louis.

Mrs. Haddad, 23 and blonde, and her husband, Ollie, were held without charge for further questioning.

Mrs. Henry Lins of Overland, Mo., today claimed the body of her son, Theodore Mills, shot down in an exchange of shots with Wood Carter, assistant cashier, who also was killed. No money was obtained in the raid.

BAND CONTEST

Highland, Ill., March 23.—(P)—High school and grade bands of Southwest Illinois will compete for honors here Thursday and Friday. Entry of 40 bands was announced today.

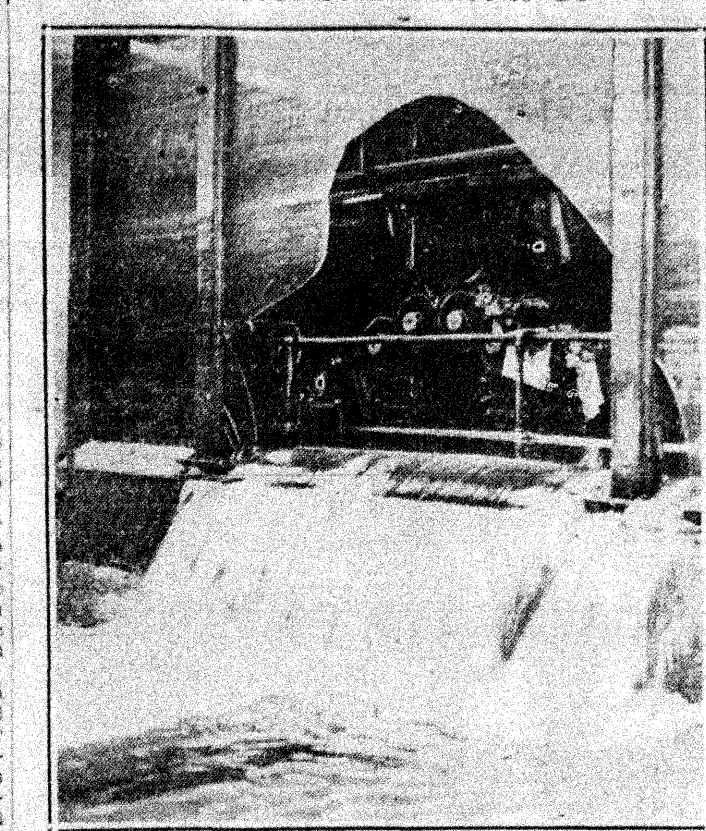

Winners will compete in state-wide contests to be held in April for high schools at Urbana and in May at Bloomington for grade schools.

Collinsville and Edwardsville high school bands which won state honors last year are not entered in the contest, but each will give a contest.

VETERAN DIES

East St. Louis, Ill., March 23.—(P)—Edmund Bridges, 86, late La Salle county member of East St. Louis only G. A. R. post, died here today. He served nine months as a private in the Civil War and suffered a leg wound.

Father Finds Son Who Disappeared Six Months Ago

Twenty-Six Year Old Man Apparent Victim Of Amnesia

Clinton, Ill., March 23.—(P)—C. C. Campbell, a Kewanee, Wis., manufacturer, arrived here today to claim an apparent victim of amnesia as his son, Louis, missing for six months.

The young man recognized his father, and prepared to accompany him back to the home he left under mysterious circumstances last summer.

The Rev. L. C. Taylor of the Baptist church here, said that young Campbell sought him out Saturday after he arrived in Clinton on freight train. He seemed dazed, Mr. Taylor said, and when questioned could not give his name.

The minister said his identity was eventually traced to the Campbell home in Kewanee by a lodge pin he wore.

Kewanee, Wis., March 23.—(P)—Louis Campbell, 26, who was found an apparent amnesia victim in Clinton, Ill., disappeared mysteriously on Sept. 30, 1935, while employed in the Kewanee Manufacturing Company, a furniture plant operated by his father.

Since that time, Sheriff Taylor Weasley said, the father, C. C. Campbell, had done everything possible to locate the youth. His identity was traced by a Clinton pastor through a lodge pin the youth wore.</

Townsend For Borah

Dr. Townsend, dreaming of his $200 a month pension plan at his home in sunny California, lets it be known that he favors William E. Borah for the Republican nomination for president. He has suddenly ceased to be an independent and has become a Republican. The good Doctor has realized the necessity of getting in somewhere, and has selected the appropriate band wagon.

Anyone who owns property and expects to keep it, or who believes in the present economic system may now shy away from Borah. The Townsend plan contemplates either a tremendous credit inflation or a payment of the pension in goods. There is not enough cash circulating in the nation to permit the payment of $2,000,000,000 a month to pensioners.

The government would of course issue that much in checks, which would find their way into the country's credit scheme. Paper inflation would be the result, with the government, back of all the paper to the tune of $24,000,000,000 a year.

Education Up To "Date"

A group of Nebraska high school teachers recently heard from a Des Moines lady reformer that they should teach their students how to "date." Dating bureaus have been established in several colleges recently, which may give the teachers some ideas.

What strikes us funny is the assumption that high school students need to be taught how to "date." Some of the teachers may need instruction, but the students already know all that is necessary. In fact if such a class is to be established, we suggest that the most popular young lady in the school be placed in charge. She is probably an expert at whether to date or not to date, also whom to date. Practical experience is the main essential, and that cannot be taught.

Informing the People

The peril in which the United States Constitution now stands at the hands of radical and New Deal enthusiasts is little realized by the mass of the people. Recently a group of citizens visited a town not far distant where a political meeting was to be held. They attended, and being themselves of the same faith and order, took some part. The regular speaker failed to arrive and the program was brief. One of the visitors was asked to talk.

Feeling his way, he inquired whether the people would like an explanation of the Constitution theory of government. They said they would. He explained the division of power between the state and federal governments, how the national powers were delegated, and all others reserved to the states. He showed how this plan had worked well over a long period, and explained that such New Deal schemes as NRA and AAA were unconstitutional because they were questions for states to handle, and not for the federal government.

The people were fascinated with the ideas they received. The thing was all new to them. If they had approved the New Deal schemes, they did so in ignorance of what was being done to the American form of government. The general public is not sufficiently informed as to the exact nature of the government under which we must all live and get along together. There are some who feel that the present administration knows this full well and has been taking advantage of such a lack of knowledge to put over something on the American people.

The Paradox of Europe

There is one country in Europe today that is not disturbed by thoughts of war. And paradoxically, that is Nazi Germany.

At least we have the word of American foreign correspondents that the great bulk of the German people have been going about their tasks with little conception of the seriousness of the European crisis precipitated by Herr Hitler's renunciation of the Locarno treaty.

They know that troops have been sent into the Rhineland, but that has been explained by the German press, acting under government instructions, as a mere "reoccupation of German territory."

"War?" they exclaim. "We do not want war. Der Reichsfuehrer does not want war. But the French, what do they want? Look at their fortifications!"

And so the great deception carries on. Germans calmly quaff their beer, shout "Heil Hitler," and voice thanks for his dictatorship.

Mr. Farley's Superior Democrats

On May 8, 1933, speaking before a Jefferson day banquet at Minneapolis, Postmaster General Farley said, "We know that for every job we can find a Democrat of superior qualifications." In the current issue of the Atlantic Monthly Lawrence Sullivan tells in detail how the boss spoilsman of the New Deal set about finding these superior Democrats.

The major plums at the disposal of the postmaster general are approximately 13,000 postmasterhips under the appointive power of the President. From 1921 until Mr. Roosevelt took office these appointments had been on a semi-merit basis. The appointment to such a post had to be made from among the three highest eligibles certified after examination by the civil service commission.

A really superior Democrat, it might be thought, should have had no trouble placing himself among the first three in such an examination, thus making himself eligible to presidential appointment. But Mr. Farley found that the provision tied his hands.

On July 12, 1933, he got an executive order from Mr. Roosevelt which so changed the system of examining candidates for the presidential postmasterhips that since that time the civil service commission, apparently with the good name of the merit system in mind, has appended to its calls for such examinations the statement: "This is not an examination under the civil service act and rules, but is held under an executive order of July 12, 1933, providing for such procedure."

One clause of the executive order barred incumbent postmasters and all classified civil service employees from attempting to qualify by competitive test for a vacant postmasterhip subject to presidential appointment. Mr. Farley's superior Democrats, it appears, are amateurs in the conduct of postal business and should not be required to compete against professionals.

A second clause in the order empowered the postmaster general to disqualify any certified candidate at will. This, Mr. Sullivan points out, in fact enables Mr. Farley to set aside the results of one competitive examination and call another one if the particular superior Democrat he has in mind fails to qualify on the first. This is not conjecture. Mr. Farley has done just this thing, time and again.

In a previous article in the Atlantic Mr. Sullivan stated that Mr. Roosevelt has added about 235,000 persons to the federal pay roll, of whom only 1 in 107 has been selected for merit. Against this charge of scuttling the merit system Mr. Roosevelt and his campaign manager have attempted the defense that the ever present "emergency" did not give time for civil service selections.

The postoffice is an old and well established governmental business. No emergencies have occurred in its management, except the bloody one which Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Farley themselves caused rearing the army to fly the mail. The rule which Mr. Farley got from the President to care for his superior Democrats unmasks the Roosevelt appointments for what they are—a deliberate conspiracy to support the Democratic political machine with public funds.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Eyes of G.O.P. Fixed on Borah-Knox Vote Tilt in Illinois.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—The next big political date in April 14, when Senator William E. Borah and Col. Frank Knox compete in the Republican preferential primaries in Illinois.

If Borah defeats Knox in the latter's home state, a result Borah's friends confidently predict, that will be the end of the Knox candidacy for all serious purposes, and a very big boost for the senator from Idaho.

Illinois is the only state where it is yet certain that the names of two major candidates will go before the public voters in such way that the electors will be able to make a choice between them.

Its primary is divided into a preference vote and a vote for individual convention delegates. There is no particular connection between the votes, and even if one candidate wins a tremendous preferential victory, the delegation is likely to be split.

Presidential primaries as a national institution have come to be something of a farce. In most states, the delegates are elected by political conventions and the candidate who wins the most primary victories is more likely than not to lose the nomination if he has any strong opposition.

Nevertheless, Borah will be in a strong psychological position if he obtains popular endorsement in Illinois, Ohio, Nebraska, and Pennsylvania—states where he already has filed—and in other states where he may file later.

Borah Would Race Landon

Unwillingness of Governor Landon to enter preferential primaries against Borah has been attributed to the Kansan's desire not to antagonize the senator and his friends, but Borah is understood to be bitter because he can't meet Landon on the battlefield of ballots.

Build-up of the Borah candidacy in the primaries fits in nicely with the theme argument of his followers that he is the only Republican candidate who is experienced in national affairs, has a large national following, and can meet Roosevelt in the election campaign on equal terms.

The popular vote the Senator receives in primaries will indicate the importance of a possible Borah bolt from the party ticket. Although anti-Borah politicians profess not to believe in that possibility, some men who have known and observed Borah for a long time insist they wouldn't be surprised if he should bolt this year as a crowning act in a long career of political insurgency and independence, assuming that he is neither nominated nor given a voice in framing the party platform.

Max Soothe Idahoan
Regular Republicans, now largely counting on Landon's nomination, are prepared to make some concessions to Borah as to the platform. The question would remain whether the concessions would be enough to satisfy Borah, who insists the party must be rescued from Wall Street and the Old Guard.

In 1912 Theodore Roosevelt captured ten state primaries and President Taft won only Massachusetts, by a tiny margin. Taft was nominated by the Old Guard steamroller which operated by virtue of the patronage-bound southern delegates.

T. R. subsequently bolted and led the Bull Moose party. That was the biggest presidential primaries had, and they have been declining as an influence ever since. People soon got the point that they were in no sense decisive.

Primary Means Little

In 1920 Hiram Johnson received the most primary votes, and Warren G. Harding, who carried only his own Ohio, the least. In 1924 the Democrats nominated John W. Davis, who had not been entered in any primary. Politicians prefer to nominate their own candidates without any help from the party rank and file.

In many states they have arranged primaries so that they can send unopposed or favorite son delegations and this year, for instance, it is practically certain that pledged delegations will control the Republican Convention.

The number of presidential primary states has steadily declined in the last twenty years—at least seven having repealed their primary laws. Until Senator Borah started speaking up recently, it appeared there wasn't anyone left with even a good word for the primary idea.

INSTALL ELECTRIC CHANCE CARRIER IN WADDELL'S STORE

There has been installed in Waddell's store here a new electric cable carrier system for making change. The improvement has been made on the second and third floors, with the cashier located in the main office on the mezzanine floor.

The new arrangement is found superior to the old basket system, still in use on the first floor. It requires only fifty seconds for the cash cups to make the trip to the main office and return. The new system has been completed and is in operation.

State Conference On Crime Will Be Staged This Week

Peace Officers of Illinois Will Gather Friday at Springfield Parley

Invitations have been issued for the third annual Conference on Crime, to be held in the state house at Springfield, Friday, March 27. State-wide in its scope, the conference will also include federal government officers.

About 1,000 delegates are expected to attend. These will include municipal, county, and state representatives of law and order, and also numerous distinguished operatives of the Department of Justice and other branches of the national government.

Rural crime in Illinois will be given special consideration, according to Walter L. McLaughlin, director of the Illinois Department of Agriculture, who is in charge of the campaign to suppress the banditry that has been afflicting the farmers of the state for more than a year.

"Few realize the extent of these depredations," says Mr. McLaughlin. "We read and hear much of crime in cities, and it is an amazing fact that the robberies committed on farmers during the past year have exceeded in value of loot all of the bank robberies in the nation."

"More than 1,500,000 chickens have been stolen. Ducks, geese, turkeys by the tens of thousands, and more than 20,000 head of cattle and other live stock, besides vast quantities of tools and implements, have been the loot of an apparently well organized gang of bandits who are ravaging the countryside."

"During the past six months the depredations have been considerably decreased through the organization of the farmers into community groups—somewhat akin to the old time vigilantes—who are working in close concert with sheriffs, highway police, and other peace officers."

Records of the federal government show that during 1935 there was an average decrease of about 13 per cent in major crime throughout the nation. Illinois is outstanding with a decrease of 40 per cent. This is believed to be largely due to the close cooperation fostered by the state conferences on crime.

FIRE DESTROYS SHED AT CARROLL HOME ON ROUTT STREET MONDAY

Shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday firemen were called to the residence of John Carroll on Routt street where a shed was on fire. The entire structure was ablaze before it was discovered. The building was destroyed. It was used for storage purposes.

Firemen strung two lines of hose, one to protect the Carroll residence and the other to save the barn. Ben structures were dangerously close to the burning shed.

About noon firemen were called to a residence on North West street just north of the Washash tracks where a shed was on fire. There was little damage.

EXPLOSION IN SEWER CAUSES FIRE ALARM

Pedestrians at the southwest corner of the square were startled late Saturday afternoon when they heard a miniature explosion and saw a man hole cover jump from the pavement, followed by a shaft of flame. Patrolman Everett Mann witnessed the spectacle and turned in a fire alarm.

Firemen said a cigaret apparently had been tossed into the sewer intake, igniting gas which exploded.

Sunday evening at 8:35 o'clock the fire department went to the 1000 block on North Clay avenue and extinguished a grass and weed fire on vacant lots.

James Garrison of Modesto was among those transacting business in the city yesterday.

Threatening Blaze Is Extinguished on Square Yesterday

Slight Smoke Damage in Two Clothing Stores After Fire at Wehl's

Awakened by smoke in their apartment at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Hart gave an alarm that saved one and probably other buildings on the west side of the square from bad damage or destruction by fire.

The Hart's live above the A. Wehl men's furnishing store, and when their room became smoke-filled they turned in a fire alarm. Firemen ran a line of hose into the store and went to work on a blaze which had started in the basement, and burned through the floor in one place. Within a few minutes the blaze was extinguished.

Smoke rose into the store and also penetrated the walls into the store of J. W. Lane to the north. The smoke damage was reported as slight by both proprietors yesterday morning, and their stores were open as usual. Firemen said the blaze originated near an ash pile in the basement of the Wehl store, igniting the joists and floor.

The blaze left considerable soot in the Wehl store and this was cleaned up yesterday morning. Mr. Wahl said he has not yet estimated the amount of smoke damage.

Flood Crest Sweeps To Portsmouth, O., As Residents Flee

Sea Wall Protects Town as River Mounts to 59 Foot Level

Cincinnati — Muddy, debris filled waters of the Ohio river swept past the 57-foot stage here today as the crest neared Portsmouth, O., 110 miles upstream.

Hundreds of persons were deserting their homes as the huge stream encroached on lowlands of the southwestern portion of Ohio.

Portsmouth's stage was 59 feet, close to the top of a million-dollar flood wall which was being anxiously watched by residents. The crest was not expected before noon at the earliest and possibly not until 5 p. m.

The flood water submerged at least two short-line villages to the rooftops, cutting them off from communication with the outside world. Each hour the river blocked more highways and otherwise subjugated a region just emerging from one of its most severe winters. At no point, however, did there appear prospect the full tide would reach the 1933 level.

Three years ago today, the stream at Cincinnati reached a maximum of 63.6 feet.

The flood's highest flow as it entered its last 100 miles to the Indiana state line, was slowed somewhat by heavy runoffs from the Great Kanawha and Big Sandy valleys in West Virginia and Kentucky.

The fresh outpouring submerged the business section of Catlettsburg, Ky., four to five feet.

Portsmouth, scene of one of the disasters of the historic 1913 deluge, felt secure, however, as it nestled behind its 60-foot concrete flood wall, topped by two feet of sandbag rampart.

President and Wife Get College Honors

Roosevelt Flays Opponents of New Deal

Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla. — Picturing critics of New Deal policies as people motivated by "group interests" rather than national welfare, President Roosevelt appealed to citizens today to be "good neighbors" and think in terms of a community as a whole.

In accepting an honorary degree of literature from Rollins College, the president also declared that growth and progress in education, politics and other spheres, "invariably and inevitably are opposed bitterly, falsely and blindly opposed."

Mrs. Roosevelt received the Algeron Sydney Sullivan award from Rollins "because when you became the first lady of the land, you became also the first woman citizen of America." It was believed to be the first time both husband and wife have been honored at the same time by an American college.

Business and commerce, pursuits in which many of the New Deal's opponents are to be found, were described by Mr. Roosevelt as "almost wholly made up of groups."

Nowhere in the brief address did he mention the New Deal specifically, but the tenor of his remarks was not lost on observers. In illustrating his views about "group interests," he drew upon the conflicting reactions he recently received to his proposed tax program.

S. H. McDewitt of Franklin was a caller here yesterday.

The first steel on this side of the river will go up early this week. The work will be done from both sides, meeting in the center.

According to the engineers, "if nothing serious happens to delay the work, the bridge should be ready for traffic next September."

"MATTER" THEME IN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Matter" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 22. The Golden Text was, "The fashion of this world passeth away" (I Corinthians 7:31).

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thou, even thou, art Lord alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee (Nehemiah 9:6).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The fading forms of matter, the mortal body and material earth, are the fleeting concepts of the human mind. They have their day before the permanent facts and their perfection in Spirit appear. Mortals must look beyond fading, finite forms, if they would gain the true sense of things. Where shall the gaze rest but in the unsearchable realm of Mind? (P. 263-4).

Duo-Sonata Recital Is Given Sunday by MacMurray Artists

George Hardesty, Violinist, and Hugh Beggs, Pianist, in Unusual Program

A duo-sonata recital is a type of program far too seldom heard. The paucity of such programs is due to several vital lacks; among them the comparatively rare propinquity of sufficiently equipped musicians and the absence of musical compatibility necessary for an artistic interpretation. Even when other conditions are favorable there is frequently an unwillingness to devote to the undertaking sufficient time to bring such a program to a successful issue.

In the program given at Music Hall MacMurray College Sunday afternoon by George Hardesty, violinist, and Hugh Beggs, pianist, both of the Conservatory faculty, one was at once impressed that these two players possessed the qualities which make such a program an experience to be carefully treasured.

The sonatas were carefully chosen, beginning with the Sonata in E minor written by Mozart one hundred and fifty-six years ago. This was followed by one written by Brahms one hundred years later, closing with one written by Milhaud within the last twenty years. The program gave a fine perspective of the development of musical usage of the last century and a half.

The Mozart furnished a beautiful example of the ideals of music in Europe during our own Revolutionary period. Chaste melody, pure harmony, adherence to the principles of fundamental art characterize all the works of this great genius of an earlier era. Every line of the score brings a realization that a work of art does not lose its appeal. Its message and spirituality are inherent so that it belongs to every age.

The Brahms sonata showed the great changes to which the same form had been subjected in the following century. The vigorous harmonic structure, the freedom of development of a motif, the closely knit ensemble, and the freedom of key relationship told a story of a man thinking and writing in the same form as Mozart with such different results.

It remained for the Milhaud Sonata to sound defiance of the restrictions laid upon tonal conventions of the classical and subsequent schools of composition. To the trio it seems impossible that Mozart and Milhaud made use of the same twelve musical tones. Milhaud combines his material polytonally and with great complexity of rhythm. In this sonata he has achieved interesting, debatable, and thought-provoking results.

The two artists who interpreted these three works were in their best form. With technical errors long since forgotten, with sensitive understanding, unusual ensemble, great delicacy, yet with emphatic force when needed, they filled the hour with keen pleasure for their appreciative audience.

Gallantry

By Helen Welshimer

GALLANTRY is such a shining word
That I shall pin it on my heart to wear—
Upon my heart—concealed from prying eyes.
And I alone, dear one, shall know it's there.
It will not let me stoop when I would bend
To something less than real nobility.
Nor will it let me pause in storm to wait
Until the winds shall blow less turbulently.

And if, forgetting wisdom you have brought,
I falter as I fear that I may do,
If hands, that you had not denied, again
Should reach for strength that once had been their due,
I'll bring them back to rest above my heart,
Oh, letters that are proud and never blurred,
I think that I can walk my road in peace.
For gallantry may be a steady word!

Convention Worker Addresses Baptists

Rev. J. A. Cooper is Speaker at Evening Service in Local Church

Rev. J. A. Cooper of Kansas City, member of the field staff of the Northern Baptist convention, was the speaker Sunday night at the regular service of First Baptist church. He visited this city enroute east from his home, after filling a pulpit in Missouri Sunday morning.

Rev. Mr. Cooper spoke from the text "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good." The struggle to overcome evil, he said, has been carried on for ages. There are many in this day who make no effort in that direction. They seem to think that, because the world is in a state of change economically and politically, therefore the things God has said about evil have also lost their meaning.

The speaker pointed out that the preaching and acceptance of the Gospel are still the best means of overcoming evil with good. If the church neglects these functions, it is not carrying forward the Christian program.

The Northern Baptist Convention will meet in St. Louis May 20 to 24. The Southern Baptist Convention will convene their earlier in the month, and on May 18 and 19 the two great religious bodies will hold a joint convention session. It is hoped to have a large representation from the local church attending the convention.

Miss Jane Avey of Chandeville was a shopper in the city yesterday afternoon.

High-Speed Living Taxes Digestion

RUSH HOUR—tired nerves tighten, often send us to the table in no shape to enjoy food. Camels have the pleasant effect, during and after meals, of aiding and promoting digestion.

"CAMELS ARE A FAVORITE with us here," says Mr. Joe Moss, who presides over New York's Hollywood Restaurant (above). "I see Camels on lots of tables. We've found that success comes through giving people the best.

The fact that Camel uses costlier tobaccos and people prefer Camels shows that they appreciate the same policy in other lines too."

Smoking Camels found to have a positive beneficial effect upon Digestion...

Our modern "eat-and-run" way of living is hard on digestion. Experiences with indigestion are common! Hence unusual interest attaches to the following fact: that smoking
Camels has been found to have a marked beneficial effect in aiding digestive action.
You'll find Camels milder too, packed with the rich enjoyment of choice tobaccos.

Turn to Camels for digestion's sake...for the pleasure to be found in Camel's costlier tobaccos. Camels set you right!

OTIS BARTON, in-

"Camels help make my food digest better."

A SENSATION! Henry
Taft Snowden, 34, intercollegiate wrestling champion. Snowden says:
"It's my experience that smoking Camels after meals and between meals aids digestion."

LESTER STOEFFEN, former U.S.

Chicago Cubs Are Out to Repeat Their Victory of 1935; Kids in Good Shape

By Eddie Brietz.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
Pensacola, Fla., March 23.—(P)—Those surprising young Chicago Cubs who rang up 21 straight home stretch victories to beat the Cardinals last season, are out to repeat—but they're taking nothing for granted.

"We're not resting on last year's laurels," said Manager Charlie Grimm today. "Our job is tougher than before because they'll all be shooting for us. But I think we have a swell chance to come through again."

"These kids look great and they mean business. I was a little afraid the pennant might go to their heads. Instead, they figure this is a new year and they got to go out and fight for everything they get. So long as they feel that way about it, I'm satisfied."

Grimm and his Bruins have every reason to be optimistic. Last year's champs have another year's experience under their belts. Lon Warneke, star right-hander, is as good as ever and Chuck Klein is looking like the same fellow who led the National League in hitting in 1935. Warneke injured his salary while in the final game of the last world's series with the Detroit Tigers. There was concern in the Cub camp until the big fellow reported this spring and began burning them over with all his old time speed and cunning.

There has been talk in Florida that Klein might be sent to the Phillies in return for Pitcher Curt Davis, but Grimm, who is entirely sold on the outfielder, spiked these reports by announcing Klein is not for sale or trade.

"He's himself again," said Grimm. "He's hustling and hitting the ball hard. If he continues to look as good as he does now he'll be more of an asset to us than another starting pitcher."

Except that Manager Grimm will be back on first base, the Cubs will stake their 1936 chances on the same lineup that fought its way into the world's series.

A back injury kept Grimm out of the game virtually all season. He went on the inactive list and turned the first base responsibilities over to 18-year-old Phil Cavarretta. Now with every trace of the injury disappeared, Grimm intends playing fully half of the 154 games.

Bill Herman, Bill Jurgens and Stanley Hack will be stationed at second, short and third, with Elwood English, the highest paid substitute in the majors, and Gene Lillard, who clouded 1935 for Oakland, on hand for utility work. Cavarretta will be Grimm's relief.

The outfield is set with Klein in right, the speedy Augie Galan in left and Frank Demaree in center, with George Stinback and John Gill from Minneapolis, as reserves.

Grimm plans to use a staff of five starting pitchers, headed, of course, by Warneke and including Bill Lee, the veteran Charlie Root, Larry French, the southpaw, and James (Tex) Carleton who French says is an improved tosser this year.

Roy Henshaw, diminutive left hander, and Fabian Kowalik will be the principal relief hurlers although Clay Bryant, a young right hander from Birmingham, has shown so much stuff he is expected to draw plenty of assignment.

Gabby Hartnett, one of the big cogs in last year's pennant winner, again will head the catching department but will share the burden with James O'Dea and Walter Stephenson, both 1935 holdovers.

Grimm thinks the Cardinals and Giants are the clubs he will have to beat, but he doesn't underestimate the strength of the Pirates.

"If they get good pitching—and they should—they can make trouble," he said. "Nobody looks for Guy Bush to have another bad year. Well, there's a big difference right there. You can't count them out."

DODGERS BEAT ROCHESTER

Clearwater, Fla., March 23.—(P)—Watson Clark and Fred Frankhouse pitched steady ball for the Brooklyn Dodgers today as the Major League club defeated the Rochester Redwings of the International league 5 to 2.

PHILLIES BEAT BREWERS

Winter Haven, Fla., March 23.—(P)—The Phillies took their fifth consecutive exhibition game today by turning back the Milwaukee Brewers of the American Association, 8 to 1. Hall Kelleher and Joe Bowman yielded only four hits to the Minor leaguers.

Almost any coach who had anything to say about the tournament explained why his team was not there. Not many of them could see Decatur as the championship ball team, and for that matter, the fact that they won causes wonderment.

They were kids—one senior, one half-senior, a couple juniors and a sophomore. The senior, Weinsand, had one of those peculiar personalities. After scoring a point or two he'd look at the officials with a questioning glance—trying to learn from their actions what he had done. Baker seemed to be a misfit, dashing hither and yon about the court apparently without purpose, and unable to hit his shots when his opponents turned him loose to cover Weinsand and Minick.

Minick and Weinsand played the blocking posts, much like Laster and Coddington, or some of the other Blueboys under the I. C. wicket. The blocking posts were seldom used, and never were used in the stress of a tight game.

That leaves Parks and Reynolds. They were the ball team. Reynolds executed some of the sweetest screens seen in the tournament to break Parks loose for drive in shots. That was a large part of the offense. Then Weinsand, thinner than a rail, and weighing only 140 pounds despite his 6 feet 3 inches, Minick, and Baker went to action, rebounding the ball. Weinsand was superlative there, working into the best positions consistently to get his shots.

Under the opponent's basket it was much the same, except that the Decatur defense forgot all about players once a shot started for the hoop. Five red uniforms converged on that dangerous territory. There was no peace under the wicket. Decatur's defense took on the aspects of a shifting zone with which Kintner won his first title, but it ranged all over the floor, harassing opponents.

Parks and Reynolds did most of the floor work, and they did it with dribbling, although they were clever passers when pressed. Both were stouter dribblers, speeding up quickly, stopping the same way, then whipping up to full speed in the space of a couple strides while keeping control of the ball. Their opponents had to be wary.

However, the Danville team, which played Decatur in the finals was not the Danville team that defeated Mt. Pulaski in the afternoon, and won from Moline and Centralia in overtime in the first two games.

Likewise, the Johnston City team which gave Mt. Pulaski its sound licking in the third place game was not the Johnston City team which lost by one point to Decatur in the afternoon, or defeated Proviso and Vandalla. It's our feeling that either Johnston City or Danville, in that order, should have been the state champions. Hull, also, should have won from

Bluffs Grades Pile up Record

Two tournament championships and a season's record of 19 victories in twenty starts in the record piled up by the Bluffs Grade school basketball team this year. Their record this year brings the total of Bluffs victories in the past three years to 64 wins out of 68 games.

The Bluffs quintet won the Alsey

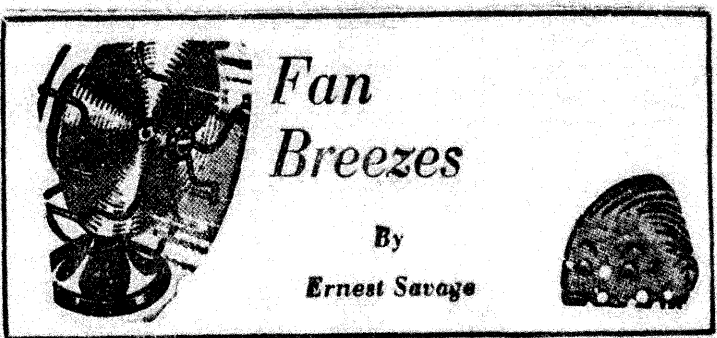

"Tin-Cup" tournament and the Winchester invitational tournament this year, and won the David Prince invitational tournament two years ago, winning the championships in all of the tournaments in which they have participated.

Redlegs Blank Tigers 1 To 0

Lakeland, Fla., March 23.—(P)—The Cincinnati Reds, beaten by a one-sided score in the first spring meeting with the Detroit Tigers, retaliated today by shutting out the champions 1 to 0.

The Reds' victory evened the spring schedule, which calls for 10 more games as the two teams travel northward.

Tony Freitas and Lee Stine tamed the Bengals with two hits, one by Gerald Walker and the other by Rudy York. Cincinnati batters touched the offerings of Jake Wade and Joe Hare for seven base hits. Hare had the better control of the two but gave up four hits in as many innings.

Yes, verily, there were a lot of teams that looked better than Decatur, but they couldn't look better at the right time. Therefore, a great big orchid to the Decatur coach. His boys were led to believe they had the stuff, they came to believe it, and then went on to win. His coaching strategy of rushing the offensive was about the only instruction he passed on.

He was about the only instruction he passed on. He was about the only instruction he passed on. He was about the only instruction he passed on.

Many Applicants For Coaching Job

Madison, Wis., March 23.—(P)—More than a score of applications for the position of director of athletics were next meeting by the new Wisconsin Athletic Board at its first meeting here yesterday, but the session produced only routine results.

The board must recommend to the University regents as soon as possible its choices for the athletic directorship, vacated by Dr. Walter E. Meany, and a football coach to succeed Dr. C. W. Spears.

Board members said they hoped to be able to make definite recommendations to the regents at the latter's next meeting, April 21 and 22. The athletic board will meet again April 3.

The board ratified awards in basketball, wrestling, fencing and cheerleaders.

Cubs Take Game From Giants 8-4

Selma, Ala., March 23.—(P)—The Chicago Cubs made it two-out-of-three in their roving exhibition series with the New York Giants today by taking an 8 to 4 decision before an overflow paid attendance of 2,877.

A big fifth inning at the expense of Clyde Claxton, in which the National league champions made six hits and six runs, settled the issue after Mel Ott's second inning home run had sent the Giants away in front.

Ott, Cub catcher, hit a homer with two on during the big inning while Charlie English came through with one for the Giants in the seventh with the bases empty.

Score by innings:
New York 010 001 110—4 10 2
Chicago 002 060 000—8 11 3

RED SOX WIN

Sarasota, Fla., March 23.—(P)—The Boston Red Sox gained revenge today for the defeat handed them by the Athletics last week, defeating Connie Mack's charges, 5 to 3, in an exhibition game. The A's scored two in the eighth and a third in the ninth to put on a belated rally.

Dizzy Becomes Highest Paid Flinger For First Time; Hank Greenberg Continues Demands

New York, March 23.—(P)—Like the last thin lines in blue or gray, the waning ranks of major league baseball's holdouts have dwindled to a handful of survivors.

Capitulation today of Brother Paul Dean, following an abrupt end to Dizzy Dean's noisy salary siege, reduced to a half-dozen the number of unsigned players of prominence.

Detroit's slugging first baseman, Big Hank Greenberg, who has been shouting defiance from the Bronx, automatically moved to the head of the holdout class.

Like Dizzy Dean, Greenberg has been linked with talk of a $40,000 salary for 1936 but the headlines are the closest either will come to that figure.

Reliable reports place the elder Dean's new salary at $25,500, an increase of $5,000 over last year. Greenberg probably will be in the fold before long. It is understood Hank was paid around $12,000 last year for leading the league in runs batted in and sharing the home run crown with Jimmie Foxx.

Dizzy Dean's salary makes him the highest paid pitcher in the National League, for the first time. He tops Carl Hubbell, southpaw ace of the New York Giants, by probably $3,000 and will get as much as the top-salaried American Leaguer, Boston's Lefty Grove.

Other die-hards among the holdouts, setting new records for stubbornness, include Zeke Bonura, hard-hitting first sacker of the White Sox; Ben Chapman, outfielder, and Charlie Ruffing, right-handed pitcher, of the New York Yankees; Babe Herman, outfielder, of the Cincinnati Reds, and Joe Stripp, Brooklyn Dodgers infielder.

Ruffing has been in the Yankee camp, at St. Petersburg, but failed to come to terms in his latest conference with Col. Jacob Rumpel. None of the others has got that far. All but Stripp probably will be in the fold before long. The Brooklyn do not seem to care whether they hear further from "Jersey Joe," who does not figure in Casey Stengel's starting lineup plans.

Local Teachers to Attend Divisional Meet Friday, Mar. 27

Public Schools to Close for Convention in Capital; Officers from Here

The public schools of Jacksonville will be closed on Friday, Mar. 27, while teachers are attending the seventh annual meeting of the South Central Division of the Illinois State Teachers Association, which will open Thursday night in Springfield. Sessions of the convention will be held in the Springfield high school and the Orpheum Theater.

Dr. R. O. Stoops, superintendent of the local schools, is chairman of the divisional executive committee. J. A. Lettice of Murrayville is division vice president. Other teachers from the county are members of various committees.

The proposal to change the name of the association to the Illinois Education will be considered at the convention. About 2,500 teachers are expected to attend the divisional meeting.

The proposal for the change of name was presented at the annual state meeting, but the new title cannot be adopted until a majority of the divisions in annual conference approve. Teachers generally oppose the change, while principals, superintendents, parent-teacher associations and others are supporting the move.

Educators to Speak
Principal speakers at the two-day conference will be Dr. F. B. Knight, professor of educational psychology at the State University of Iowa; Dr. Goodwin Watson, professor of education at the Columbia University Teachers' College; and Robert C. Moore, executive secretary of the state association.

The conference will open at 7:30 p. m., Thursday at the high school with a concert by the Springfield high school orchestra, directed by Clarence F. Sauer. Rev. Gay C. White, pastor of the Laurel Methodist church, will give the invocation and Harry H. Coe, president of the Springfield board of education, is to welcome the visitors. The response will be made by W. L. Gard, superintendent of schools at Beardstown. E. W. Powers, executive secretary of the Illinois Teachers Protective association, will make announcements and Dr. Knight is to speak on "How to Be Happy in a Troubled World."

The Friday sessions will open at 9 a. m. in the theater with music by the Ionia quartet, a male organization. Rev. H. W. Hines will offer the invocation and Dr. Watson will discuss the future of American Youth. The quartet will sing again and Dr. Knight is to detail methods of improving personality.

Officers to Be Named
Reports from officers and committees and election of officers will feature the afternoon session at the high school. Mr. Moore is to discuss the legislative situation, the quartet will sing, and Dr. Watson will speak on "The Fight for Educational Freedom."

The conference will be in charge of R. E. Fidler, principal of the Hay-Edwards school, Springfield, president of the division. Other officers are: J. A. Lettice, Murrayville, vice president; Carrie Barnes, Hay-Edwards school, secretary; and Bruce E. Wheeler, principal of the Ridgely—Douglas schools, treasurer. Child Smothers in Bed with Parents

Four Months Old Infant of Alexander Couple Dies from Suffocation

Accidentally caught under bed clothing while he slept in the same bed with his parents, 4 months old James David Walker smothered to death Sunday night at the family home on a farm one mile east of Alexander. The infant was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Walker, who moved to the Alexander community only a week ago from near Curran.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker told Coroner Sample the child was in good health when they retired about 8 o'clock. At 12:10 o'clock yesterday morning Mrs. Walker discovered the infant was dead.

A coroner's jury composed of Harry Kumble, John J. Zellner, Clyde Zachary, John Reif, Jr., W. A. Roberts and George C. Cockin, found that death was due to accidental suffocation.

Mr. Walker is employed on the farm of George Cockin.

Funeral services for the child will be held today and interment will be made at New Berlin.

James B. Andrews of the Chapin community was among those transacting business in the city yesterday.

President Orders All CCC Camps To Be Maintained

Threatened Revolt Among House Democrats Has Quieted Down

Washington, March 23.—(P)—A threatened revolt among House Democrats over proposed reduction of CCC camps was quieted down today by President Roosevelt's order for maintenance of existing camps through most of the next fiscal year.

The president's plan to close 700 of the 2,188 camps was met with circulation by Representative Nichols (D-Okla.) of a petition protesting the reduction. The petition bore 285 signatures when word came the president had changed his plans.

A second petition, calling a Democratic caucus on the matter carried 34 names. Only 25 are needed for that type of petition.

In a letter from Mr. Roosevelt to Robert Fechner, emergency conservation work director, made public today, the president said:

Chevrolets Finish Ahead Of Irish Index After Slow Start

Steinheimers eagerly opened up with a wicked first quarter to upset the Browns Business College team on the David Prince court in the Y. M. C. A. basketball league last night, piling up a seven point margin which the Browns team was unable to overhaul although they cut it down to four points at the finish, 33 to 29. Chevrolets came from behind to defeat the Irish Index in another exciting tussle, 39 to 30, after trading 10 points at the end of the first half.

Murrayville forfeited to Smith Index in the other game, and Browns filed notice that they would be unable to appear at the scheduled time Tuesday night, with the result that the other games slated for tonight will be moved up one hour.

Led by Nick Watts and Waddy Applebee, the drugists rolled up a 13 to 6 lead in the first quarter against the Browns team, and held their advantage until the fourth quarter, when Browns began cutting it down.

Hopper and Church DeWitt led the Chevrolets in their battle with the Irish Independents, tossing in 15 and 12 points each. The Irish led 24 to 14 at the end of the first half, but the Chevrolets tied the score at the end of the third quarter and then went on to win.

Deputies Dismissed By Il Duce

Moves Taken to Prepare for Possible European War, He Says; Increases Na- tion's Self-sufficiency.

Rome—Premier Mussolini, predicting the coming of a new war, abolished the chamber of deputies and all large private industries in Italy today.

For the chamber of deputies he substituted a council of guilds, known as the "Chamber of Fascists and Corporations."

Il Duce left only medium and small private industries intact and said of large private industries "We are going toward the period in which these industries x x x will have to labor exclusively, or almost so, for the armed forces of the nation."

In further explanation of his drastic move on industries, the Italian premier declared it was inconceivable that profits should be made from the manufacture of war materials.

Mussolini executed this broad stroke on the 17th anniversary of the founding of his Fascist party, after concluding conferences with the government leaders of Austria and Hungary, and calling the grand assembly of corporations into session.

Il Duce discarded the chamber of deputies in favor of a council of guilds, and eliminated Italy's large private industries in a move to increase the nation's economic self-sufficiency, he declared, in preparation for a possible European war.

When and how war will come, one does not know," he told the national council of the 22 guilds of the corporative state, "but the wheel of fate turns fast."

The National Council of Guilds, which replaced the chamber of deputies, is composed of 22 productive, credit, transport, agricultural and professional corporations, or category guilds.

In eliminating the large private industries, Il Duce declared he was leaving the medium and private industries intact.

Mussolini aroused tremendous enthusiasm among the nation's leaders in industry and labor by declaring differences in rank among the various producing workers must be lessened.

He asserted the large industries, particularly those working for the defense of the nation, would be formed into organizations called "key industries."

These, he said, "will be run directly or indirectly by the government. Some will have mixed organization."

"These industries, owing to their characters, volume and importance for war, leave the field of private economy and enter into fields of state economy," Il Duce proclaimed.

He did not deliver the scathing remarks he has made on previous occasions regarding the chamber of deputies, which had taken a secondary place in the Fascist state, but announced stiffly that the chamber would be replaced by the council of guilds.

The new chamber, he said, will be known as the "Chamber of Fascists and Corporations."

The rules of the new chamber, Il Duce said, would be determined by the Fascist grand council.

"This assembly will be political, because economic problems are seldom solved without political aid," he said.

Matters absolutely not economic, he said would be assigned to certain technical corporations or institutions of the Fascist party.

Then he nailed the jury room window shut. Jurors now need only five to 25 minutes.

Oglesby Withdraws From G.O.P. Fight For Governor's Job

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—Supporters of John G. Oglesby of Elkhart, who eliminated himself from the Republican campaign for governor, today were free to lineup behind other candidates.

"I am not a candidate," the former lieutenant governor announced, releasing his friends from further support.

Oglesby's name will appear on the April 14 ballots, but he is not asking for votes.

There was immediate speculation as to which of the other seven active candidates would benefit from the self-elimination of the Elkhart veteran, whose father was elected governor three times and who served as lieutenant governor under Frank O. Lowden.

Close friends of Oglesby said he would not give a personal endorsement to any of the GOP gubernatorial aspirants. Letters announcing the withdrawal are being sent to political leaders from Oglesby, his farm home at Elkhart.

President Orders

Brazilian Martial Law Enforced

Senator And Two Members Of Chamber Of Deputies Are Arrested

Rio De Janeiro, March 23.—(P)—President Getulio Vargas ordered enforcement of martial law throughout Brazil tonight, and several prominent persons, including a Senator and two members of the chamber of deputies, were arrested.

The president, in decreeing martial law for 90 days, declared a grave situation exists in the country comparable to a state of war.

The Senator arrested was Abel Chermont, of the state of Para. Acting as a lawyer, he recently sought unsuccessfully to obtain a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Harry and Machlan Berger, arrested on charges of communistic activities January 1.

The deputies seized were Domingues Velasco, from the state of Goyaz, a captain in the army, and Joao Mangabeira, a radical deputy from the state of Bahia and a brother of Octavio Mangabeira, former minister of relations who was one of the leaders of the opposition to the government.

The martial law decree was dated March 21, the day when Vargas called the cabinet into conference at his summer residence at Petropolis. It was published tonight in the Diario Oficial.

The decree was published 51 hours before the scheduled expiration of a state of siege which was applied after the November rebellion was crushed.

Harry Berger, for whom Senator Chermont acted as lawyer, was said by high Brazilian sources to be in support of communistic activities of the communists international in South America.

Chicago Team Takes Basketball Crown

De LaSalle Wins Easily in Game with Small Team from Indiana

Chicago—(P)—The huge trophy symbolic of the National Catholic High school basketball championship was moved over to DeLaSalle Institute of Chicago today for the third time.

The runner-up trophy and the memory of a cheer bigger even than the championship award given by George Cardinal Mundelein, went to Anderson, Ind., in care of St. Mary's High school's game little team which bowed, 45 to 29, to De LaSalle last night in the final game of Loyola Academy's 13th annual tournament.

De LaSalle, a big, high geared team coached by Fred Dillon, former Loyola University star, whipped the game little team from Indiana without much trouble, but St. Mary's gallant stand against almost hopeless odds made it the darling of a crowd of 4,500 fans.

Wheat Prices Are Over Cent Lower

By John P. Boughan

Associated Press Market Editor
Chicago, March 23.—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Wheat prices broke the season's low price record for September contracts, wheat today fell 11 cents a bushel because of expected adequate drought relief southwest and west.

Electric lines were said to indicate the best outlook yet for moisture where most needed by domestic winter crops—namely, in the famous drought region of the hard wheat belt. Reports were also at hand telling of rapid progress of spring wheat seeding northwest and of favorable crop prospects there.

Wheat closed weak, 1-14 under Saturday's finish, May 97-97, July 86-1/2, corn 1 to 1 cent down, May 58-1/2, oats unchanged to 4 off and provisions unchanged to a rise of 7 cents.

Except during a brief time at the outset, reports of widespread unusually severe dust storms southwest and west were ignored by wheat traders. Instead attention was nearly monopolized by forecasts that opportune rain or snow would soon alleviate unfavorable crop conditions. Meanwhile, field advice from the drought territory said it was impossible to determine at this time what the approximate acreage abandonment will prove to be, inasmuch as the outcome depends largely on the extent of moisture supplies.

Industrials Lead
N. Y. Stock Mart

New York, March 23.—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Under the leadership of the industrials, which rose to a new high for the year, the stock market today pushed forward for gains of fractions to a point or so.

A small scattering of issues recorded wider gains. Allied Chemical was up 6 1/2 at 199 1/2. Case jumped 1/2 to 142 1/2 and Clark Equipment was up 3 1/2 at 46.

Observers said the demand for shares was attributable mainly to confidence in the domestic industrial and trade long-term outlook.

The upward progress of equities in spite of Mussolini's prediction of a war was seen by some as symptomatic of the extent to which Wall Street has toughened itself to possibilities of a new European flare-up.

Another factor still at work for the advance, most agreed, was the continued high levels of idle money.

Measured by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks the market advanced 7 of a point to 62.6. The average of 30 industrials went ahead 7 to 83.1, a new high since 1930.

Transactions totaled 1,708,550 shares against 1,808,930 on Friday. Turnover was the smallest since January 21 and tended to somewhat dampen bullish ardor.

That the financial community regarded the interruptions caused by the floods as merely temporary was illustrated by the buying in the steel issues.

U. S. Steel was up 1 1/2 at 64 1/2 and Bethlehem rose 1 1/2 to 58 1/2 in spite of the fall in current steel operations, reported by the American Iron & Steel Institute at 53 per cent of capacity, this compared with 60 per cent a week ago.

Cattle And Hog
Prices Higher

Chicago, March 23.—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—All livestock met with improved demand today and prices for hogs and cattle were higher. Hogs advanced 10 to 15 cents to a $11 per hundredweight top, the first time $11 has been paid in March in six years. Cattle were 25 cents higher.

Choice 180 to 200 pound hogs enjoyed the preference of eastern and local buyers. The greater proportion of the 16,000 head supply moved at a 10 cents advance.

Slaughter cattle were in brisk demand and the market was very active on steers salable at $9.50 and upward. As a result, the clearance was good. Choice to prime weighty steers sold as high as $11.75 and best yearlings brought $10.50.

Feeder cattle were wanted by country buyers for replacements and they bought freely at strong prices at $6.75 to $8.25.

Fat lambs finished fully steady with a few choice handy weights selling slightly higher. A top of $10.50 was paid for strictly choice 90 pound Nebraska lambs while the bulk sold at $10 up to $10.25.

Cairo Unworried as Floods Sweep South

Thousands of Acres of Farm Land to Be Inundated

Centralia, Ill.—(AP)—The rampaging Ohio river will have lost most of its fury when the crest reaches southeastern Illinois this week, a survey indicated today.

While thousands of acres of rich farm lands were expected to be inundated, at no place along the river has any alarm been expressed and at no place was special emergency preparation being made.

"Not worrying" was the consensus of officials of more than a dozen cities along the river.

At Cairo, point of confluence of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, government engineers reiterated their statement that the city has never had a flood and never will have one. A huge sea wall built many years ago protects Cairo. The wall, raised to 60 feet after the 1913 high water on the Mississippi, protects farm lands for many square miles.

Keeping the Home Fires Burning—

In hip boots, Gladys Leonard wades around the kitchen of her home at Lambertville, N. J., attending to such housekeeping duties as the knee-deep "carpet" of water will permit. If the Delaware river doesn't overflow the stove, she'll have a hot meal ready in a jiffy.

Townsend Endorses Borah for Position

Washington — (AP)—The capital sought today to figure what effect the endorsement of Dr. F. E. Townsend, old age pension leader, would have on the Borah presidential drive.

Dr. Townsend announced his support of Senator Borah (R., Ida.) on the ground that "he has moved a great deal further towards our ideals than any other candidate in sight in either party."

This development shared interest with several others, including a new onslaught on the New Deal by Republican National Chairman Henry P. Fletcher. He asserted in a statement that "the Roosevelt regime has merely deepened the depression."

Meantime Democratic leaders, mapping the campaign to come, withheld their fire for the nonce but were expected to open up on their foes in increasing measure as the fight progressed.

"Oh—thank you." Toby entered the swinging gate and went down the corridor. Blake saw her in the doorway and smiled.

"Well," Blake began, "I suppose you'd like to see those pictures?"

"Yes, I would." He opened a drawer of the desk, sorted through some photographs and took out several.

"Here they are," he said. "What do you think of them?"

"Toby could scarcely believe her eyes. Surely this girl with the glowing smile and sparkling eyes was not herself. She had never looked like that—never. And yet it was she!"

"Oh, Mr. Blake—" "Okay, aren't they?" He pointed to a full-length pose in which Toby appeared to be leaning against a rustic gate. Her head was thrown back, her hair bathed in golden light, her face radiant.

"Nice shot," Blake commented. "I think we're going to turn you into a smile girl."

Blake nodded. "Girls who can smile," he said, "I mean naturally, attractively and with animation—make more than anyone else in this business. They're the advertisers' pets. Nothing sells automobiles and soap and cosmetics and kitchen stoves like a pretty girl's smile. If you make good as a smile girl, you'll make money and so will we."

Toby smiled. "I hope I can," she said. "I hope so, too. How'd you like to start working today?"

"I'd love to."

"Good. Crown and French are making some commercial shots this evening and I'm going to send you over, along with half a dozen others. You'll find you're liable to work nights as much as days in this business. We have no hours—and all hours. Remember, no matter where you are, you must always keep in touch with this office. Leave word where we can reach you, or else call in. That's important. Now if you'll go out and ask Sally—she's the girl at the desk—she'll tell you about this assignment tonight—where you're to go, what to wear and all that."

Toby saw that she had been dismissed. She went back to the outer office and said to the girl at the desk, "Mr. Blake told me I'm to work tonight. He said you'd tell me about it."

The other nodded. Turning through some cards on her desk, she said, "Yes, it's Crown and French's studio. They're in the building. Be there at 7:30 and you'll need only one dress. A white evening dress. It doesn't need to be elaborate. Slippers and light hose, of course."

She looked up then, read the other girl's expression. "Oh," she said, "haven't you a white evening dress?"

"No, I haven't," Toby hadn't an evening dress that was white or black or any color.

"That's too bad," the other said, frowning. "Well—I suppose we'll have to send someone else."

Chicago, March 23.—(AP)—The Illinois Works Progress Administration gave notice today that political candidates would have to furnish their own entertainment at pep meetings and rallies.

Deputy Administrator Ralph H. Burke announced WPA actors and musicians would not be available to amuse, at the expense of the federal government, crowds gathered by any candidate.

The ruling spoiled the plans of a 40-piece WPA band at Rockford, Ill., to appear tonight at a political meeting sponsored by Dr. Herman N. Bundesen of Chicago, a Democratic candidate for governor.

Six union musicians were called upon to furnish music instead.

"Because the WPA cannot furnish enough entertainment to meet all requests and since talent to any one would identify the WPA with the party or group there will be no entertainment provided at federal expense for any political meetings in Illinois," Burke declared.

His instructions were issued shortly after Miss Kate F. O'Connor chairman of the Winnebago county women's organization working for the renomination of Governor Henry Horner, had sent a telegram to Washington protesting the Rockford band concert as "coercion and exploitation of workers for partisan political purposes."

The orders were sent to all district WPA directors in the state and to all music and drama supervisors.

Fire Razes Barn Near Carrollton; Origin Is Unknown

Firemen Save House And Other Buildings; News Notes

Carrollton, Ill., March 23.—Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed a barn and its contents at the farm of John Willen, one and one-quarter miles southwest of this city at 1:30 a. m. Saturday. The barn contained about 15 tons of hay and about 300 bushels of corn. The barn was owned by Mrs. Laura Tunnell of Rockbridge and was partly covered by insurance. As there were no wires or electric wiring in the building, Mr. Willen was at a loss to know what started the fire. He and his family had been in this city early in the evening and on returning home at 9:30 p. m. Friday everything was all right. He said that at about 1:30 a. m. the flames were awakened by the roar of the flames and on going outside found the barn burning from the ground to the roof.
